AARP Driver Safety Celebrates Asian American Pacific Heritage Month with $5 Discount on Chinese Courses

In recognition of Asian-American Heritage Month, AARP Driver Safety will be offering a discount for its award-winning driving refresher course. Throughout May, participants can take $5 off the cost of the AARP Smart Driver classroom course taught in Chinese.

The AARP Smart Driver course, offered by AARP Driver Safety, is the nation’s first and largest refresher course designed especially for drivers age 50 and older. Course participants learn the current rules of the road, defensive driving techniques, and how to operate their vehicle more safely in today’s increasingly challenging driving environment. Participants also learn how to manage and accommodate common age-related changes in vision, hearing and reaction time. Additionally, participants who complete the course may be able to qualify for a multi-year automobile insurance discount, and should consult their insurance agent for details.

During the month of May, courses are $5 off: $10 for AARP members, and $15 for non-members.
