RE: AARP Livable Community Project

Dear AARP Board Members:

Logan County is situated on the northeastern plains of Colorado. We have a robust history of hardworking individuals, family values, and proud small town life. To that extent, it has always been a community where we have worked to remember the contributions of all members of society.

Along with our county seat, Sterling, efforts have long been in effect to enhance the lives of all our citizens, no matter the age. Of course we recognize with not only the baby boomers turning 65 last year, we have also been seen as a retirement location, with those wanting to escape the hectic city setting for the peace of small town life.

To make Logan County a highly sought location to live, the Logan County Commissioners support the Alliance’s aim to help seniors live more easily and comfortably by joining AARP’s Network of Age-Friendly Communities.

We would like to thank AARP for this valuable Livable Community Project and hope that our request is considered to provide Age Friendly services to all seniors in Logan County.

Thank you,

Joseph A. McBride, Chairman

Jane E. Bauder, Commissioner

Byron H. Pelton, Commissioner
