Q21. Right now, there are discussions in Washington about putting in place a rule that would require professional financial advisors, when giving investment advice to people about retirement savings accounts, to give advice that is in the best interest of the account holders. Do you agree or disagree that the government should establish this type of rule?

%	n=802
47	Strongly agree
21	Somewhat agree
11	Somewhat disagree
12	Strongly disagree
