

2018 HOME AND COMMUNITY PREFERENCES SURVEY

Forming Strong Community Connections

Connecting people to volunteer opportunities, providing access to quality continuing education, and creating a social environment that appeals to everyone is a key part of forming strong, livable communities.

89% and 86%
of adults 18 to 49 of adults 50+

feel it is important to have places within the community to meet and socialize with friends and neighbors.

Activities that involve both younger and older residents are important to have in the community according to

88% and 85%
of adults 18 to 49 of adults 50+

8 out of 10
adults 50+

feel it is important for communities to offer a wide range of local volunteer opportunities

86% and 81%
of adults 18 to 49 of adults 50+

feel it is important to have access to continuing education within their community.

 See the full survey report

AARP[®]
Real Possibilities

NORC at the University of Chicago conducted a survey from March-April 2018 for AARP. Almost 2000 adults 18 and older were interviewed about their community and their plans for the future.

AARP.ORG/RESEARCH | © 2019 AARP ALL RIGHTS RESERVED
<https://doi.org/10.26419/res.00231.008>