

2016 AARP Caregiving Survey: The Caregiver Advise, Record, Enable (CARE) Act

More than 80 percent of Missouri registered voters age 45 and older support measures in The Caregiver Advise, Record and Enable (CARE) Act, which will help unpaid family caregivers when their loved ones go into the hospital and as they transition home. The CARE Act Bill features three important provisions that require hospitals to: provide instructions on the medical tasks the family caregiver may need to perform at home, keep a family caregiver informed of major decisions, like transferring or discharging the patient, and to engage with caregivers by recording the name of the family caregiver when a loved one is admitted into a hospital.

Support for Proposals to Help Family Caregivers When Loved Ones Go into Hospitals Among Missouri Registered Voters Age 45-Plus* (N=800)

*Percentages less than 10 percent are not shown.

More than 90 percent of Missouri registered voters age 45 and older who are current or past caregivers say it is important for them to receive training or instruction on medical tasks they may need to perform upon hospital discharge of a loved one. Nearly eight in ten of these caregivers indicated that a loved one or family member was hospitalized during a period of time while they were providing care.

Importance of Receiving Training or Instruction on Medical Tasks To Be Performed After Hospitalization of Loved Ones* (n=443 current or former caregivers)

Both current and former caregivers have provided care in a myriad of ways, with three-quarters having assisted with complex care like medication management (75%) and other medical tasks (75%). More than eight in ten have helped loved ones in their care with household management activities like shopping (91%), transportation (89%), chores (85%), and preparing meals (84%). Seven in ten are also helping to manage finances for their loved ones (72%). In addition to the care they provide, about two in five (43%) caregivers say they have made modification to their homes, and one in six (16%) moved into another home to accommodate the needs of their loved one. The majority (64%) have also used their own money to help provide care.

Daily Activities that Missouri Caregivers Age 45-Plus Are Providing or Have Provided
Respondents Who Are Current or Past Caregivers
(n=443 current or former caregivers)

Most Missouri registered voters age 45 and older have experiences as family caregivers, or believe they are likely to be caregivers in the future. Missouri registered voters age 45 and older say they have provided care—either currently (18%) or in the past (46%) —on an unpaid basis for an adult loved one who is ill, frail, elderly or who has a disability. Of those who have never provided care more than half (53%) say it is at least somewhat likely they will do so in the future. Typical current family caregivers in Missouri are women (72%) and over 55 years old (69%). They are likely to be married (77%) and have some college education (57%). The average age of the person they care for is 76 years old.

Where Do Missouri Registered Voters Age 45-Plus Want to Live When Basic Life Tasks Become More Difficult?
(n=800)

Caregiving Experiences
(n=800)

Many (65%) current and past caregivers say it is likely that they will need to provide care again in the future. As such, nearly all of these caregivers believe it is important to be able to provide care so that their loved ones can keep living independently in their own home. Many also say, having more caregiver resources and training that allows family caregivers to continue to provide in-home care is important.
