

Background

Americans over the age of 50 consistently show up more often to vote compared to younger voters. Given the influence this powerful voting bloc will likely have on the 2018 mid-term elections, AARP surveyed 618 voters age 50 and older in Colorado's 6th Congressional District between September 5-20, 2018, to assess what would be on their minds when they cast their ballots this fall and which candidates they would be backing.ⁱ

Political divisiveness is a top concern with voters age 50+ (45%). More than half disapprove of the job performances of Republicans (60%) and Democrats in Congress (57%), as well as President Trump (53%). While voters age 50+ generally see the U.S. economy getting stronger (47%), this optimism is not reflected in their own financial security with seven out of ten (69%) feeling like they are not getting ahead.
